MORE STEEL WORKERS COME

Employees of the Edgar Thomson Works Visit McKinley.
Canton, Ohio, Sept. 17.—Major McKinley's organized visitors today consisted of the employees of the Edgar Thomson steel works at Braddock, Pa. They came via the Pennsylvania on a special train of three sections of twelve coaches each. The first section arrived at 11:40 and the others shortly afterwards. Fully 2,000 men were in line in the parade, which marched to the music of Sheridan, Sable and St. Thomas bands. There was cheering and hurrahing all along the line. At the McKinley home, hearty congratulations and assurances of support were offered by J. L. Jones, of the clerical force of the company, who was the spokesman of the company. Major McKinley responded and a reception followed.

This will leave thirteen Democratic electors.

LIVESTOCK EXCHANGE YIELDS

Greer, Mills & Co. Relinquished Upon a Show of Federal Force.
Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 17.—The federal authorities made a show of force at the Kansas City livestock exchange this afternoon, and as a result the firm of Greer, Mills & Co., which was suspended by the exchange last week for non-payment of fines aggregating $1,000, is again a member of the exchange. Until today there had been every indication that the board of directors would ignore the order of Judge Phillips, of the federal court, directing that the suspended firm be reinstated, pending a hearing on the 28th inst., but when United States Marshal Shelby went to the exchange this afternoon, prepared to arrest any member of the board of directors, a meeting was quickly held and the suspended firm was reinstated.

Some of the heaviest buyers and packers of the city are supporting Greer, Mills & Co., and it is believed that whatever may be the outcome of the litigation, the exchange is doomed to dissolution.

DAVE'S COMMISSION'S BIG JOB

Has Undertaken the Task of Making the "roll" of the Tribes.
St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 17.—A dispatch to the Republic from Vinita, I. T., says: The Dave's commission is now clothed with the power and has undertaken the task of making a "roll," as they call it, of the "free" citizens of the several tribes of Indians in the territory. The magnitude of the work imposed upon this commission may in a measure be understood when it is stated that nearly 100,000 applications for admission have already been filed with the commission, and that each applicant, according to the law, must be heard and his case determined by the commission. It is estimated that the commission will require ninety days after the time of filing, and that all cases must be passed upon by the commission by December 10, 1896.

BELL HAS ANOTHER HANDLE

Rejoices in the Name of Ivory and is Said to be a Duke of Others.
London, Sept. 17.—The Graphic says that it was learned that the real name of Edward Bell, the American arrested at Glasgow for the dynamite conspiracy, is Ivory. The police regard him as the dupe of Tyan and others.

The Times in the course of a discussion on the extradition of Tyan, says there is no doubt that the extradition treaty with France would be retrospective and could be made to cover the Phoenix Park murders, for which there is a fair chance that extradition would be granted. But the Times expresses doubt whether the treaty would cover the case of a culprit in a fresh dynamite conspiracy.

The Daily News reports that it is stated in official circles that it is almost certain that France will surrender Tyan.

ARRAIGNED AT HOW STREET

Ivory, an American and a hotel keeper at 211 Lexington avenue, New York. Bell is accused of conspiring with others to cause an explosion in the United Kingdom. After formal evidence of his arrest had been given by the police, he was remanded for a week. He was removed to jail this afternoon.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 17.—John Boyd Thatcher, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, decided late tonight that he would make public a statement during the early part of next week, as he wishes it to be published before the state convention of the gold Democrats in Brooklyn on Thursday. He will either make his statement at a mass meeting in this city on Monday or Tuesday night of next week, when the Democratic national and state tickets are to be ratified, or else in a letter to the voters of the state. He has decided to follow the course of Senator Hill in his campaign and confine himself to state issues.

Senator Hill was seen tonight but he refused to say anything regarding the action of the Buffalo convention, of the candidates nominated.

THE ART OF NURSING.

A London Professional Who Does Not Believe in a "Born" Nurse.

A woman who is a trained nurse, occupying, after years of practice, a superior place in a London hospital, has been giving a course of lectures on her profession. Her first proposition at a recent talk was that there is no such thing as a born nurse; the habit of observation was a duty and the basis of nursing, which was an art only learned by practice.

Among some practical utterances of the speaker were: "A sunny sickroom, one that was entered by the sun once in 24 hours, is desirable; patients placed on the south side in a hospital ward recover sooner, by ten days to a fortnight, than those on the north side. Plenty of light is beneficial, except in cases of brain disease. The less furniture in the room the better, and to keep it clean a damp duster should be used instead of a dry one. The air must be kept as pure inside as outside, and there was little or no risk about having the window open, top and bottom, if the patient were well covered, head included, and a good fire kept burning. Night air is not injurious; it is purer in a city after ten p. m. than at any other time. The bed should never be in a corner, but accessible from all points. In fever and surgical cases, a 'cradle' had sometimes to be used to keep off the weight of the bedclothes; an instrument which could be made out of a handkerchief, with the bottom knotted off. Bedmaking was the grammar and keystone of nursing; many regular nurses could not make a good bed. It was important to make a decision when the time came for any office, and not to worry the patient by hesitation or talking of what was to be done; to tread quietly, but firmly; not on tiptoe, and never to whisper to a third person. Every effort ought to be made to secure for the patient two hours' sleep before midnight. Amateur nurses often broke down through neglecting to take food when keeping watch through the night.—St. Louis Republic.

WANT CHINAMEN EXCLUDED.

Canadians Preparing a Monster Petition to Present to Federal Government.
A monster petition to the federal government praying that further restrictions be placed on Chinese immigration to Canada is being circulated. There is little doubt that the petition will contain over 10,000 names before it is sent to Ottawa.

The petition recites that Chinese labor is driving out the white workmen; that the United States, realizing this, has excluded the Mongolian coolies, and that Canada should adopt drastic measures to keep them out. It then urges that a tax of $500 be levied upon each Chinaman entering the dominion as a means of lessening the number.

FEELING THE SPUR

SALISBURY'S GOVERNMENT KICKS AGAINST IT.

Remonstrances are Raised Against the Expression of the Popular Indignation in its Demand That the Government "do Something" in Turkey—How it is Out of the Question to Tackle the Turk Alone and Then There's all That British Capital Locked up in Turkish Securities—Turkish News in General.

London, Sept. 17.—An editorial in the Times, after remarking that for the present the indignation against the Turk is confined to England and the United States, which abstains from all intervention in European questions, calls attention to the remarkable letter of Lord Hugh Cecil, the Marquis Salisbury's son, as an indication of the views of Lord Salisbury. Lord Hugh said in this letter that it would be dangerously misleading the Armenians for England to make them believe she alone could save them.

The Times also calls attention to "the notorious fact that Russia will not tolerate any coercion of Turkey" and appeals to the country to consider well the risks it will run in an agitation for action on the part of England. The Times continues by saying:

"The government may be relied upon to do all that prudence and the means at their command will allow. But it is useless to spur a willing horse and it may be fatal to both horse and rider to spur him at a constant trot. The Times emphasizes the fact of the paralysis of trade there and the jeopardy of 400,000,000 pounds sterling of European capital engaged in enterprises in Turkey.

SEMI-OFFICIAL NOTE.

The foreign office has given out the following semi-official note: "The outbreak of the continental press against Great Britain, which is accused of selfish designs in the east, has assumed official circles. Nothing that is being done or contemplated by the government could give the slightest color to such assertions.

"The government cannot hold itself responsible for the natural horror inevitably inspired in the minds of the public by the atrocities at Constantinople. The policy of Great Britain has, however, undergone no change whatever, and the government is acting in complete accord with the other powers, as it has hitherto done.

"Nevertheless, it is becoming obvious that the public feeling in Great Britain has been so outraged by the shocking events in Constantinople that the government would never be supported in again adding the ports. If the powers cannot see their way to adopt means to co-operate to end the carnage, the only course open to Great Britain is to stand aside and hope for a more satisfactory state of affairs.

An editorial in the Daily News commenting upon the semi-official statement issued by the government with regard to its policy in Turkey says: "It will be a bitter disappointment for everybody, but the country must persevere. The true business of the government is, not to force the Dardanelles but to force a concert of the powers to its own righteous and honorable ends."

MADE WILLIE A BRIGHT BOY.

James Hartley Now Seeks to Recover the Fine and Costs He Paid.

Some time ago the parents of Willie Smith, of High street, Pittsburgh, Pa., entered suit against James Hartley for alleged cruelty to their boy, who is about 13 years old. Willie has been employed by Hartley as a "printer's devil." It seemed impossible for him to do anything in a hurry. Mr. Hartley tried to frighten the boy into activity. One day he seized a lighted gasolene torch and chased Willie about the office with it. Willie ran, almost scared to death, and several times the flames came near enough to touch his legs, where they left a mark. Alderman Burns fined Hartley five dollars and costs. Hartley paid the fine and discharged the boy. All would have been well had not Mrs. Smith said the fire cure for slowness was a wonderful success, and that Willie had become a remarkably bright boy in consequence. He is now a quick-witted, hustling boy, and will, she thinks, distinguish himself. When Hartley heard these stories he began to think it unjust that he had been compelled to pay a fine for working against the parents to recover the fine and costs paid by him.

FINDS A GOLDEN FORTUNE.

Wife of Counterfeiter Nigger Not So Poor as Supposed.

Five thousand dollars in gold coin was found under the cellar floor of the cottage at Flatmont, N. J., occupied by Mrs. Nigger, wife of the celebrated counterfeiter, who is now in Elmira penitentiary for his crime. Mrs. Nigger was just about to move. She called in a trusted neighbor to help her in taking up the cellar floor and the golden hoard was revealed.

The secret service agents in their search explored every nook and corner of the cottage. They confiscated several thousand dollars in bank notes and bonds, and it was believed that Mrs. Nigger was left almost penniless. Mrs. Nigger's neighbors were severely shocked when it became known that instead of being poverty stricken $5,000 had been saved from the wreck of the penniless fortune.

BEGINSON SHERMAN

lation appeared to be at the depot. Mr. Bryan was introduced by T. F. Klutz, one of those who seconded his nomination at Chicago. The nominee spoke eulogistically of the state he was in and after referring to the fact that Andrew Jackson had been a law student in Salisbury, he said:

"The principles for which I stand are the principles taught by Jackson, when he was the idol, not of Democracy, but of the great common people whom he had at all times defended." He spoke of Jefferson's history and referred to the fact that Jackson and Jefferson had been the object of abusive attacks by the money-owning and money-changing class who proclaimed against every one who did not "bow the knee to Baal and worship the golden calf."

THE MOTHERS AND WIVES.

Mr. Bryan then stated that he had noticed mothers and wives in the audience being addressed, crowding about the platform, because they especially have felt the pressure of the gold standard.

"If living expenses have been reduced," he continued, "while the debts and the taxes of the farmer have been held up. If you could enter the homes of this nation and see how hope deferred has made the heart sick, if you could see parents who, in the hopes of better days, have planned for the higher education of their children in order that the children might begin the battle of life with greater advantages than their parents, but who have been forced to keep the children at home to keep the wolf from the door, you would understand what the gold standard means. It means a lower order of civilization, and if continued we will sink down where the few own all the wealth and the many are simply dependent tenants."

"Our opponents try to divide the toiling masses and set the laboring men in opposition to the farmer. I warn laborers not to desert the farmer, who has the friends of labor in every struggle to better their condition. The very people who today are attempting to use laboring men to defeat the farmers in their just cause are the same people who have been the cause of the suffering of the world." (Great applause.)

At Lexington, Mr. Bryan spoke three minutes to a large crowd.

FREE SILVER BANKERS.

At Greentown, five bands, a hundred quadrants and a great crowd greeted Mr. Bryan. The party dined there and as soon as the meal was over, Mr. Bryan spoke from an elaborately decorated stand near Washington street. His speech was largely devoted to an exposure of the recent bond transactions and the syndicates connected therewith. Referring then to the desirability of the free coinage of silver, he said:

"Great many bankers seem to think it their duty to support a gold standard, yet there is no reason why the western and southern bankers should be in favor of it. If our bankers in the west and south would think for themselves instead of taking their opinions ready-made from bankers in New York, who import them from London, we would have more free silver bankers."

In conclusion, Mr. Bryan said: "I am not acquainted with local matters in your state. You have differences among you over this issue. But I beg of you that you will let nothing prevent you from doing your duty. I will have in the money of the constitution. (Applause.) I trust you will allow no personal differences or local matters to prevent you casting the solid and united vote, not only for presidential electors, but for members of congress, who will give a president a chance to vote for a free coinage law." (Applause.)

After leaving Greensboro there were short stops at Burlington and Hillsboro, where Mr. Bryan spoke very briefly to the few hundred people gathered about the depot. At Durham, the next stop, Mr. Bryan spoke from a platform at the depot.

SHY AT RALEIGH.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 17.—This city, like the rest through which the candidate passed, drew from the surrounding country in order to augment the crowds to meet Mr. Bryan. Nash's park was filled with admirers of the nominee. They cheered him enthusiastically when he appeared on the platform. Mr. Bryan was introduced by S. S. Ayer, nominee for state auditor on the Populist ticket. Mr. Bryan said:

"I am informed that the Republican national committee has sent circulars to various religious papers and organizations, calling attention to me as a danger to the church. I have the free coinage of silver. I want you to remember that the Republican party and the Republican speakers and the Republican candidates, most of them, have denounced the Democrats for trying to array class against class. I want to say to you that the Republican party is doing more in this country today to array class against class than any party that ever existed in the United States." (Applause.)

SAYS "YOU'RE ANOTHER."

"The Republican party is appealing to every class, or nearly every class, and attempting to array the class against the other class. They appeal to the laboring man and tell him the gold standard gives him a higher priced dollar for his wages, without telling him it also makes it impossible for a very large number of men who want to labor to get a chance to earn one of those high-priced dollars. (Applause.) Out in our state the Republican committee in one of the counties appealed to the school teachers, trying to show them that a gold standard was a good thing for them, thereby trying to set the school teachers against the
